Jan Aamoth

CROOKSTON, MN (October 16, 2006) – Jan Aamoth was named the new program coordinator for the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC). Aamoth joins Deanna Patenaude, RSVP program director.

RSVP, one of the largest volunteer efforts in the nation since 1971, matches local problems with older Americans who are willing to help. RSVP projects link the skills of the volunteers with identified community needs. RSVP has been sponsored by UMC for over thirty years.

"Jan brings a wealth of experience to RSVP and will be a valuable asset to the program," Deanna Patenaude, program director for RSVP, said. Aamoth, who has a bachelor's degree in social work, recently worked with the hospice program through RiverView Healthcare and also the Respite Caregiver and Support Program in Crookston.

To learn more about RSVP and their efforts to connect volunteers, contact Deanna Patenaude at dpatenau@umn.edu or by calling 218-281-8288.

The University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) delivers more than 24 different undergraduate degree programs, including online options, in agriculture; arts, humanities and social sciences; business; math, science and technology; and natural resources. UMC is dedicated to helping students and the region aim higher, reach further and dream big dreams. To learn more, visit www.UMCrookston.edu.
